Van Horn Vacations LLC Launches New Midwest Travel Club

Indianapolis, (Jan 3, 2009) – The MeetUP.com, in partnership with Van Horn Vacations LLC, launches a new travel club. It's a new member's only travel club for travel enthusiast. Soraya Van Horn is the group leader and helps steer the group to outings, travel advice, meet ups, new cruises and destinations and tailor-made packages to suit the group.

The new travel club was created to take the burden out of organizing trips at an individual level. It will open up a world of uncompromising affordable travel and excellence to members through its tailor-made solutions which can be found on www.vanhornvacationsllc.com

The club was designed with women in mind who wish to explore the world in an unhurried way. During our journeys, they share their passion for travel, art and the way of life. As a Midwest Traveler, they get more than just the sights. They get the personal stories behind those sights that bring them to life and give them a soul thus creating unforgettable and magical journeys.

Through the Midwest Travel Club, member will gain access to special events, educational session, tele-seminars on how to pick a cruise, what to expect on a cruise and so much more. Members are also able to find a travel buddy who may want to share in future trips. Our female travelers especially enjoy the comfort and safety in have the club and the benefits.

The Midwest Travel Club is for all but caters to the ladies because traveling alone is not for every woman. Most women who join are between 30-70 years old. They are sophisticated travelers who may be empty-nesters, busy mothers, retirees or working professionals. They may be single, married, partnered, or widowed, but all are curious about the world and open to new cultures.

The essence of our services is to deliver the best quality trip no matter where you want to go. That quality trip includes time to reflect and time to rejuvenate your mind, body and spirit through art, music, spa treatments, wine tasting or chocolate lunches. We really promote 'travelling for the health of it™'

Interested travelers can gain membership access to this exclusive service by contacting the information below.
